Location	Tate Modern, Bankside, London Tate Britain, Millbank, London Tate Liverpool, Royal Albert Dock Tate St Ives, Cornwall
Reporting to	Head of Visitor Experience and Operations

Background

Tate's vision is to serve as artistically adventurous and culturally inclusive art museums for the UK and the world. We deliver this through activities in our four galleries across the UK (Tate Liverpool, Tate St Ives, Tate Britain and Tate Modern), our digital platforms and collaborations with our national and international partners. At the heart of Tate is our collection of art, which includes the national collection of British art from the 16th century to the present day, and international modern and contemporary art from 1900 to the present day, spanning all continents. We seek to expand access to the collection and deepen understanding of art in all its diversity.

Tate is a leading global institution, and we influence critical thinking about art practice. Tate is committed to maintaining free entry for audiences to our collections. We see access to art for everyone as a universal human right and we see our galleries as sites of creative learning. We want to champion the importance of making art and encourage people to explore the many ways in which art is created and develop their own creative potential.

We want to welcome audiences that better reflect the towns and cities in our nation and attract a diverse international public. Our reach is already powerful. We intend to increase its impact across society, with art that resonates around the world.

Everyone who works at Tate has a role to play in achieving these goals. We offer exciting work built around our love for art, and have a strong commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion, with the aim to have our workforce and audience as diverse as the communities we serve. And everything we do is only possible thanks to our fantastic colleagues, who really know their stuff, support each other and want to do the best for our audiences.

We hope you will consider joining our team.

You can find further information about Tate on our website: www.tate.org.uk.

About the role

You will lead the approach to Security and Safety across all of Tate's sites, working with internal stakeholders to ensure continuity of business operations whilst keeping Tate's people, visitors, collection and buildings safe and secure. You will provide exemplary leadership to ensure a safe, secure, proactive and inspiring visitor and colleague experience. You will be instrumental in ensuring Tate has the most up-to-date and best-in-class protocols, constantly looking to improve and stress-test our arrangements to adapt to the fast-changing security landscape and visitor behaviours.

Tate's sites welcome some 8 million local, national and international visitors per year, including increasing numbers of families, young people, local communities and multilingual audiences. You will provide strategic advice, guidance and support to create a consistent brand experience across all Tate sites, enabling the delivery of ambitious projects and supporting artistic risk taking. We also have various storage facilities for the national collection in the UK and a distribution centre in Essex.

Our aim is to create a visitor experience where everyone who visits really engages with the art, feels that Tate is 'a place for me', encounters the art world's most inspiring and knowledgeable staff, and are further inspired to buy, join, donate and participate. Effective safety and security management play a fundamental role in helping us to achieve this.

About your team

The Visitor Experience team is part of the Audiences Division, which works to drive reach, revenue and reputation for Tate - growing and diversifying audiences; generating income to support Tate's work, positioning the brand, and creating inspiring and engaging experiences for everyone who visits.

You will lead a well-established, contracted team, who play a crucial role in helping us to achieve our ambitions. Ensuring that team members are promoting an inclusive welcome, you will champion safety and security and work to engage internal stakeholders with the team's role in keeping our galleries, colleagues, visitors and collection safe. You will champion Tate's 'inclusive welcome' approach, ensuring that excellent customer service is embedded in everything we do, whether we're working with the public or with colleagues, partners and stakeholders.

What you will gain

People make places, and probably the most important thing you will gain is working with a fantastic team. No two days will be the same - you will be working collaboratively on a wide range of truly extraordinary, high-profile exhibitions, events, and experiences, in a fast-paced environment, and at significant scale. Underpinned by a strong mission and values, you will be recognised as an expert in your field, with a unique role as a central point of advice and support. You will be accountable for ensuring a positive safety and security culture across our brand.

What you will do

- Act as the central point of contact for internal stakeholders in relation to Security, providing sound and timely advice and assisting teams to find solutions which meet Tate's artistic 'risk taking' ambitions
- Create a culture of continuous improvement, ensuring incidents are routinely reviewed and learnings effectively shared and implemented across the organisation

- Work with the operational leads at each site to ensure the management of the security contract is aligned with Tate's vision for delivering an exceptional visitor experience
- Ensure Tate's Emergency Response Manual is maintained and reviewed and that the Duty Management team are effectively supported and developed in their roles
- Be accountable for Tate's Business Continuity Planning processes, ensuring robust plans are in place, procedures are routinely reviewed and practical testing is implemented.
- Lead on the development of Tate's Salvage plans
- Act as the Gold Commander for Tate on a rota basis, supporting with the strategic management of incidents
- Work collaboratively with the Estates and IT departments to ensure all Security systems are effectively managed and maintained, and that improvements are effectively budgeted for and delivered
- Work closely with Tate's Cyber Security lead, ensuring all plans are aligned with Tate's BCP processes and contributing to the IT Security Roadmap
- Act as the designated Civil Aviation Authority Security Co-ordinator for Tate's Known Consignor Scheme
- Manage the Security and Safety budget, ensuring effective cost control and value for money
- Maintain a network of industry contacts to ensure Tate receives and appropriately utilises key intelligence and is able to plan and prepare for major incidents or respond to external actors
- Maintain a good working knowledge of overseas risks and provide strategic advice to the directorate
- Ensure counter terror practices are well developed and that Tate is able to respond to changing legislation in this area.
- Manage Tate's contracted Safety services, acting as the key contact for the management of health and safety in the workplace. Ensure robust reporting processes are in place and that Tate's approach to safety continues to evolve in line with best practice. Ensure compliance with all relevant legal frameworks.
- Implement and manage a robust incident review process, ensuring actions are documented and senior stakeholders receive timely reports.
- Identify key performance indicators and objectives for Tate sites and ensure that these are reviewed regularly.
- Be a source of highly competent and trusted advice and work proactively with Directors and Managers across Tate to establish and maintain a programme of continuous improvement in the management of health and safety
- Work closely with operational teams to help Tate realise its artistic ambitions in a safe and responsible manner.
- Identify training needs for staff across the organisation in relation to health and safety and security and develop a programme of induction and training to meet these

What you will bring to the team

- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills with the ability to liaise, negotiate and influence at all levels across a complex organisation to deliver results
- Demonstrable experience leading and advising on Security and Safety operations in a fast paced, public facing environment
- Demonstrable experience embedding excellent customer service into day to day operations, ensuring the principles of diversity and inclusion are applied
- Demonstrable experience influencing a positive safety and security culture in a dynamic and complex organisation
- The ability to engage, influence and motivate teams who may not be under your direct management, including contractors
- Experience of contract management, ensuring KPIs are met, value for money is delivered and all contracted partners feel valued in their work
- Experience of managing the needs of stakeholders with conflicting priorities, ensuring effective risk management principles are applied whilst supporting their ambitions.
- Experience of leading complex incident management issues, with the ability to remain calm and provide reassurance and leadership in high pressure situations
- Knowledge and experience of the technical systems related to the scope of the job.
- In depth knowledge of the legislation relevant to the job and experience of applying this to issues in the workplace.
- Ability to develop and maintain external contacts with relevant agencies, institutions and organisations.
- A proactive and solutions focussed approach to problem-solving and project management.
- Highly organised with the ability to prioritise, co-ordinate and delegate tasks and work accurately under pressure to meet deadlines.
- Strong financial awareness and experience of budget management processes.
- An interest in and commitment to the work of Tate.

Tate for all

Diversity and Inclusion

Our jobs are like our galleries, open to all.

Our aim is to become a truly inclusive organisation with a workforce and audience as diverse as the communities we serve. This is fundamental to Tate's future success and our ability to continue to contribute to culture and society in the UK.

We want our workforce to be more representative of all sections of society at all levels in the organisation. The range of perspectives and experience diversity brings is an asset to our organisation and we want to create an inclusive, welcoming environment for visitors, artists and all those who work at Tate. Tate expects all employees to contribute to this aim as part of their role. More information about diversity and inclusion at Tate can be found on our website.
